DETAILED ACTION

1. The request filed on 12-19-03 for Continued Examination (RCE) based on parent Application No. 09/923,200 is acceptable and an RCE has been established. An action on the RCE follows.
2. The IDS submitted 12/19/03 has been considered.

Election/Restrictions

3. Newly submitted claims 34-51 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons:

They are more appropriate to class 222/52 as seen in Gardner Jr (2002/0096537) which reads on the new claims.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 34-51 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 32 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Specifically it is unclear which claims they depend from.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-3, 8, 16, 19, 20, 23, 25, 27, 28, 29, 32 are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McGuire et al (4,404,639).

As per Claim 1, 16, 23, 27.

McGuire et al ('639) discloses receiving collected data related to the service being provided by one or more field service providers, see column 4, line 58 – column 8, line 5;

determining whether the collected data indicates a time-critical situation, see column 12, lines 17-34;

if the collected data indicates a time-critical situation, mapping the data conclusion to time-critical advisory information, see column 12, lines 39-55; and responsive to the operation of mapping the data conclusion to time-critical advisory information, establishing a communication session with the management system, wherein the time-critical advisory information is presented to the management system through the network device during the established communication system, see column 8, lines 6-26.

As per Claim 2, 28.

McGuire et al ('639) discloses if the collected data is associated with a non time-critical situation, mapping the data conclusion to non time-critical advisory information, see column 12, lines 17-34;

storing the non-critical advisory information in a storage module, see column 8, lines 6-26.

As per Claim 3, 20, 29.

McGuire et al ('639) discloses producing a copy of the time-critical advisory information, see column 8, lines 6-26; and storing a copy of the time-critical advisory information in the storage module, see column 8, lines 6-26.

As per Claim 8, 19, 25, 32.

McGuire et al ('639) discloses receiving an instruction from the management system requesting that the time-critical advisory information be provided to a field service provider, see column 8, lines 6-26;

presenting the time-critical advisory information directly to the field service provider, see column 8, lines 6-26.

6. Claims 1-3, 8, 10-16, 19-20, 23-29, 22-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Moore (6,370,454).

As per Claim 1, 16, 23, 27.

Moore ('454) discloses receiving collected data related to the service being provided by one or more field service providers, see column 2, lines 3-7;

determining whether the collected data indicates a time-critical situation, see column 7, lines 43-45;

if the collected data indicates a time-critical situation, mapping the data conclusion to time-critical advisory information, see figure 5 (odometer, scheduled maintenance due); and responsive to the operation of mapping the data conclusion to time-critical advisory information, establishing a communication session with the management system, wherein the time-critical advisory information is presented to the management system through the network device during the established communication system, see column 9, lines 2-15.

As per Claim 2, 28.

Moore ('454) discloses if the collected data is associated with a non time-critical situation, mapping the data conclusion to non time-critical advisory information, see figure 4 (within specifications); storing the non-critical advisory information in a storage module, see column 5, line 65 – column 6, line 1.

As per Claim 3, 20, 29.

Moore ('454) discloses producing a copy of the time-critical advisory information, see column 7, lines 17-19 and column 9, lines 2-6; and storing a copy of the time-critical advisory information in the storage module, see column 7, lines 17-19 and column 9, lines 2-6.

As per Claim 8, 19, 25, 32.

Moore ('454) discloses receiving an instruction from the management system requesting that the time-critical advisory information be provided to a field service provider, see column 1, lines 44-58 and column 9, lines 2-6;
presenting the time-critical advisory information directly to the field service provider, see column 1, lines 44-58 and column 8, lines 21-52.

As per Claim 10, 33.

Moore ('454) discloses analyzing the collected data against an escalation rule to determine whether the collected data satisfies time-critical criterion, see column 7, lines 43-45.

As per Claim 11.

Moore ('454) discloses transmitting time-critical advisory information to a network device used by the management system in interacting with the advisory module via the network computer, see column 9, lines 2-5.

As per Claim 12.

Moore ('454) discloses the network device is a computing module and the advisory information is in the form of a script, see column 8, lines 21-62 and table 1.

As per Claim 13, 24.

Moore ('454) discloses the script is in the form of a textual script, see table 1.

As per Claim 14.

Moore ('454) discloses the management module is a computing system communicating with the advisory module via a computer-based language, see column 9, lines 2-21.

As per Claim 26.

Moore ('454) further discloses selecting one or more appropriate field service providers to receive the time-critical advisory information and wherein the operation of presenting the time-critical advisory information comprises presenting the time-critical advisory information to each of the one or more field service providers, see figure 5 (fixit), figure 6 (select my garage), column 1, lines 44-48 and column 9, lines 2-51.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Moore ('454) in view of Chou et al (6,330,499).

As per Claim 15.

Moore ('454) discloses a variety of forms of communications, see column 9, lines 12-21, but does not specifically disclose the management system is a person receiving natural language scripts from the advisory module.

Chou et al ('499) teaches a remote service center with a help desk, see column 2, lines 30-52 for the benefit of scheduling services or dispatching assistance.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made to include natural language communication with a person as taught by Chou et al ('499) for the benefit of scheduling services or dispatching assistance.
